July 2006

Big Time in Cody!

By Peggy Greene

The Texas Jack Association met in Cody, Wyoming, from July 1st to July 5th for the 2006 Roundup. This coincided approximately with Texas Jack's 160th birthday, which was celebrated in style with dinner and a birthday cake. (TJ's birthday is actually July 27th.) Cody celebrated the Fourth of July in a big way with a Parade on Main Street, the Wild West Extravaganza, and outstanding fireworks. Those of us who were able to attend this year's Roundup toured the Buffalo Bill Museum, cheered on the favorites at the Cody Stampede Rodeo, ate well at the Irma Hotel and the Texas Jack Association Banquet and sang along with the entertainment, the talented cowgirl singer, Leslie Keltner. The annual meeting yielded a new slate of officers and new committees and ideas for our organization. Some of us went white water rafting, visited Yellowstone National Park, rode horses into the mountains, drove the incredibly scenic Bear-Tooth Mountain loop into Montana, shopped in the many stores lining Main Street in Cody, toured Old Trail Town, and spent time dancing in Cassie's Supper Club (once a house of ill repute), among other activities. Best of all, we did all this in the company of TJA friends and family members, many of whom we only see once every two years! Turn to page 3 to see more of the fun...

from the Editor's Desk...

The best thing about guest editing this edition of the Scout – the one directly after a Roundup – is seeing all the pictures and remembering what a great time it was! This summer in Cody was no exception; the amazing fireworks, the parade, the rodeo with world-class performers, lots of outdoor activities, the shops, restaurants, and most importantly, the TJA members that I only see every two years.

I am privileged to be part of this organization that has as its mission keeping alive the memory of Texas Jack Omohundro, and in doing so, providing a sense of the history of our country, its people and places, during those years that Texas Jack lived in the Wild West.

Living in hot, swampy Florida (nice in the winter, though) it's hard to really imagine what it must have been like for the scouts of the West. From the stores in Cody (many of them quite old) to the surrounding landscape (not quite "countryside") and into Yellowstone National Park, the sense is that the West is probably somewhat like it was when Texas Jack spent time there. It's beautiful country and was a great choice for the Roundup. For those of you who made it this year – it was great seeing you again! And I hope to see all of you in two years in Ft. Worth, Texas, for another adventure into the West of Texas Jack.

Many of us watched the 4th of July Parade on Main Street. It included state and local officials as well as floats, various local organizations, mules, llamas, and lots of horses.

Jane Omohundro, Lindsay and Stephanie Greene enjoy the Stampede Parade.

We were happy to have Martha Sullivan, the daughter of our founder, Frank Sullivan. She shared many stories of the beginnings of the Texas Jack Association.

From gazing at the skydivers at the parade to marveling at Old Faithful in nearby Yellowstone, the Roundup attendees made the most of their time. Seeing old friends, relatives, no matter how distant, and meeting new members is always wonderful. We hope the next Roundup in Fort Worth, TX, brings many, many more of you.

Even the business meeting was enjoyable. It was exciting, productive, and very well attended. Be sure and read the minutes on page 13.

Leslie Keltner, pictured above, is a very talented and exciting lady who is a true cowgirl. She composes her own Western songs, some of which she sang to us for our banquet entertainment. Leslie obtains much of her material from being the guide and cook on hunting excursions into the mountains near Cody.

THE TEXAS JACK SCOUT

When we had free time at the Roundup, most of us went over to nearby Yellowstone National Park. Here are some of the breathtaking scenes we saw:

Dunraven Pass named after the Earl of Dunraven, who Texas Jack led on a hunting trip.

THE TEXAS JACK SCOUT

It has truly been an honor and a privilege to serve as president of the Texas Jack Association for the last two years. Having been a member since the founding of the organization in 1980, and attended almost all of the Roundups over the years, I was glad to have the opportunity to repay some small measure of all the work and dedication put into the organization by my predecessors. I am happy to say that the latest Roundup, though much smaller than the Charlottesville Roundup, was very successful on many fronts. I believe we have laid the groundwork for the Association to continue to thrive for many years into the future.

The membership recognized the years of work performed by Edna Nees, outgoing Secretary, by creating the new position of Association Historian and nominating her to that position for the next five years. Most of us know how much work Edna has done over the years, keeping the Association running smoothly, organizing Roundups, and so on. Even though her official title was secretary, she did far more than what was required of the office. Everyone also knows that it is Edna that one goes to when one wants to know who is related to whom, and how, and the stories that go along with the Omohundro family and their kin. It is fitting that she be so recognized, and that she will also be able to continue to participate as an officer in the Association as much as she wishes and as her health and circumstances permit.

I want to welcome Peggy Greene as the new president and wish her well in her upcoming term. I also want to extend a hearty welcome to Larry Tyree, who was elected as Vice President (and will assume the presidency in 2008), and Rene Tyree, who was elected as both Treasurer and Director of Merchandising. And of course, I would not want to forget Stephanie Greene, who will be Secretary. I know the Tyrees have lots of ideas and enthusiasm for improving the operation of the Association; I look forward to seeing them realized!

One theme that came up repeatedly in conversation with officers and other members at the Cody Roundup is that we need to get more young folks involved in the organization. They are, after all, the future. If our Association is to continue on in the 21st century, then we need to get the younger generation involved. Now, just saying this and doing it are two different things. But I know that it is important for the future of the Association, and I hope that we can make progress in that direction. I consider myself part of the "second generation" (in loose terms) of Association leadership, and I hope to usher in the third generation in the upcoming years.

I'm looking forward to working on the 2008 Roundup, to be held in Ft. Worth, TX. I grew up in Ft. Worth, lived there until 1978, and have been back many times since. It is a city rich in Western history and tradition. Ft. Worth truly celebrates its Western heritage, and is proud to call itself "cowtown." There are a lot of things for us to do there, and I know that the next Roundup is going to be a lot of fun....

Well, I guess this is it for me. Thanks for all your help and support. God bless, and happy trails!

Rand

Minutes of the Texas Jack
Association Business Meeting
July 5, 2006

The meeting was called to order by President Rand McKinney.

Old Business:

Highlights of the minutes of the July 2004 meeting were read by Peggy Greene and Rand McKinney. Membership is welcome to read the minutes in their entirety, as they will be put on the Texas Jack website.

(There were some questions about non-profit status mentioned in the minutes. Rand McKinney said that Julie Omohundro made a contribution for the amount of tax we had to pay last year. Dick Omohundro of Ohio prepared the tax returns, and Edna has copies of these returns and the budget.)

Rene Tyree moved to approve the July 2004 minutes; motion passed. The budget was read by Edna Nees, covering the period of July, 2004, through June, 2006. She gave the income report, expense report, and will publish these in the Scout. (Note: the web-hosting provider has not billed us since March, and will bill us later, with the cost being around $30.00.) The bank account had around $9,000 when Edna Nees left for Colorado, but about $500 has been spent. Edna Nees speculated that we would probably break even on this Roundup. Larry Tyree moved to approve the budget; motion passed.

Membership:

Edna Nees reported that in 2005 we had 54 paid dues. One third of those on the subscription list have paid and two-thirds have not.

Special Projects Report:

Peggy Greene read John Omohundro's Special Projects report, which appeared in the November Scout. 1000 Texas Jack bookmarks were printed, and distributed. Expenses were around $100.00. The Texas Jack Stamp project, chaired by Dennis Greene, has had no recent developments. There was discussion about the Pitney-Bowes stamp (not a real P.O. stamp). Due to lack of interest, this project was dropped. The mass mailing to all people with the Omohundro name and similar versions, plus the Morlacchi name was completed. John Omohundro and Larry Tyree did a 4-page appeal with $225 in expenses for printing and stamps for 200 mailings. Edna reported that 3 people joined, with many returned by the P.O. Beryl Caterson suggested that we work at establishing a relationship with the Cody family, as they would be a good base for mailing.

New Business:

Nomination and election of officers: Peggy Greene, as President Elect, will start her term as President on Oct. 1, 2006, as specified in the bylaws. Mark Greene nominated Larry Tyree for the office of Vice President. Stephanie Greene seconded the nomination, and the majority elected him. Rand read the job descriptions of both Secretary and Treasurer, stressing that they are not combined offices but are separate positions as specified in the bylaws. Peggy Greene nominated Stephanie Greene for the office of Secretary, Lindsay Greene seconded the nomination, and majority elected her. Peggy Greene nominated Rene Tyree for Treasurer, Mark Greene seconded the nomination, and the majority elected her.

THE TEXAS JACK SCOUT

After the election of officers, Rand praised Edna's dedication and loyalty to the association and proposed that we create a new board level position of Historian, and that she receive an honorary membership. Rand made the following motions:

1. Amend bylaws to add the position of Historian.
2. Nominate Edna Nees for the office of Historian
3. Approve an honorary membership for Edna Nees for the next 5 years.

These three motions were seconded and passed by membership. Edna will also be added to the list of honorary members and of officers in the Scout.

Rand made a motion to establish a Director of Merchandising position to sell our products. The motion was seconded and passed. Rene Tyree volunteered to be the Director of Merchandising. Margaret Jones suggested that the TJA pay to ship all products from Edna's house to Rene.

Larry Tyree's position as Scout editor was discussed. Linda Omohundro will continue as layout editor. The responsibilities of guest editor were discussed. Guest editors for the next 6 issues are:
Nov. 2006- Rene Tyree, Mar. 2007- Jack and Judy Omohundro, July 2007- Margaret Jones and Peggy Greene, Nov. 2007- Rand McKinney and K.B. Chapman, Mar. 2008- Rand McKinney, July 2008- Rene Tyree.

Margaret Jones reported on possible advertising in magazines (her report follows). There was discussion regarding the pros and cons of magazine advertising. The Nashville Omohundros suggested that saturation and repetition would be the key. Larry Tyree, Jack and Jane Omohundro from Louisiana, The Las Vegas Omohundros, and Mark Greene each volunteered to pay for one ad, resulting in four months of advertising for TJA. John and Susan Omohundro of NY have an ad prepared that could be altered with the help of Larry Tyree and used for the magazine.

Rene Tyree suggested that we do more with Google, blogs, etc. to bring in more visitors to our website.

Tax – exempt status for the association was discussed. In the early 80's Julie and Dennis Greene accomplished this, but it hasn't been renewed. Application for this status was postponed until the appropriate tax returns were filed. They have since been filed. The pros and cons of working to get tax-exempt status were discussed. The pros are that donations would be tax deductible, and we'll get lower rates for postage. The cons are that it involves more paperwork and more detailed bookkeeping in order to adhere to rules for compliance. Dick Omohundro suggested that the association apply for 501 C3 tax-exempt status (there are different types). Rene Tyree made a motion that TJA apply for this status, if the Board approves it after further investigation of the requirements of 501 C3 status. Larry Tyree seconded the motion, and it was passed. Rene volunteered to investigate the requirements and report in 30 days.

Rene Tyree made a motion that we promote a Texas Jack poster contest to advertise our Round-ups. This would be open to the public, art associations, art schools, etc. There would be a $250 prize to the winner, and the winning poster would be printed for resale to the public. Rene volunteered to head up the project. There was general agreement that the idea was a good one.

Edna Nees reported on the battle with Fluvanna County to preserve the Pleasure Hill Cemetery from development. Edna worked with her attorney to put Pleasure Hill Cemetery on the tax maps. This involved fencing, stating the dimensions, placing a historical marker on the road, etc. Thanks to her efforts, Pleasure Hill Cemetery is now on the tax maps. Edna gave information on other cemeteries, such as Gale Hill, which need extreme maintenance as they are in poor condition. The location of Gale Hill is unknown to everyone but her. Renee Tyree moved that we create a Cemetery and Archaeology Committee to work on these projects. We discussed trying to attract colleges to do "digs" at Pleasure Hill before it is developed. The motion was seconded and passed. Meghan Banton volunteered to chair this committee. Edna Nees volunteered to work with Meghan on this committee.

Roundup:

Rand moved that we meet at Ft. Worth, Texas, in 2008, as this is where Texas Jack drove cattle at the end of the Chisholm Trail. It is full of Western heritage, museums, etc. Mark Greene seconded the motion, and it passed. Rand will chair the roundup with assistance from Candace, Peggy, and Mark. Rand discussed the Ft. Worth Cowboy Hall of Fame (privately owned), which doesn't have Texas Jack as a member. Rand will meet with this museum to discuss the requirements for including T.J. Margaret suggested that we do press releases about our next roundup and possibly T.J.'s induction into the Cowboy Hall of Fame. Rand moved that, after his investigation of this issue, the Board can use its discretion about participating in the Hall of Fame. This motion was seconded and passed. Note: The roundup will most likely be held in July, but not over the July 4th weekend.

Misc. New and Old Business:

Linda Omohundro asked about the search for a peak in Yellowstone to be named for T.J. Rand said that to his knowledge, all peaks were already named. Jane Omohundro of LA volunteered to be a proofreader for the Scout. Beryl Catterson mentioned that Scottsdale, AZ, is opening a Buffalo Bill Museum. Larry Tyree said that we have one bound copy of all Scouts through 2004 and asked for suggestions for its use. Mark Greene motioned that the copy be retained and not sold. The motion was seconded and passed. Linda Omohundro suggested that we donate T.J. posters in frames to the Texas Steak House chain in VA. Edna Nees had discussed this with the restaurant manager, who enthusiastically agreed. Edna Marie Banton will investigate. Rene Tyree suggested we appoint a publicity chairman. Rand reported that bylaws already specify that the committee chairman for publicity be the Scout editor (currently Larry Tyree). Edna reported that there were around 40 members attending the Cody Roundup.

The meeting was adjourned until July 2008.

Minutes were taken by Margaret Jones, typed and submitted by Stephanie Greene

Western –Theme Magazines for TJA Advertisements By Margaret Jones

At the last Roundup I volunteered to research the cost of placing ads for the Texas Jack Association in western-themed magazines. Since then, I have reviewed four western magazines; American Cowboy, The Cowboy Chronicle, Range, and True West. American Cowboy and Range are about current topics such as ranch life, rodeos, interior design, etc... and so are not suitable.

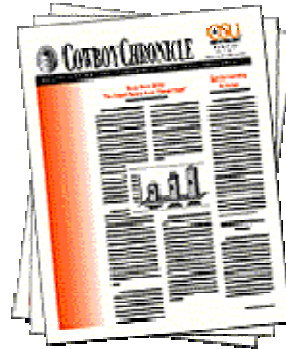

The Cowboy Chronicle is the monthly journal of the “Single Action Shooting Society” or SASS. SASS is “an international organization created to preserve and promote the sport of Cowboy Action Shooting”. The Cowboy Chronicle has a circulation of 50,000 with 112 pages of editorials and advertisements. Its newspaper format is 10 ½” x 3 1/2”. Correct costuming is required for competition and members often assume the role of historic characters.

True West is a popular magazine devoted to Western History. The issues cover a wide variety of topics from gunfights to religion on the frontier to Laura Ingalls Wilder. The circulation is 193,300. The demographics of its readership seem perfect for potential interest in the Texas Jack Association. For example, 85% of its reader visit historic sites, 72% collect western memorabilia, 71% own rifles, and 89% buy or rent western films.

The minimum standard advertising rates are as follows:

The Cowboy Chronicle: The minimum black and white ad is $227 per issue for a 1/8th page ad. (Either horizontal at 5” x 3.25” or vertical at 2.5” x 6.5”.) The price goes down per issue with frequency. There is also a black and white business card ad at $60.00 (3.5” x 2”). I personally do not think the business card ad would provide enough information for a response. More detailed information can be found on the web at: http://www.sassnet.com/CC-Ad-Rates_001A.php.

True West: The minimum black and white ad is $330 per issue for a 1/6th page ad (2.25” wide and 4.875” high). The price goes down per issue with frequency. More information can be found on the web at <http://www.truewestmagazine.com/contact.html>.

After researching both magazine content and advertising rates, I recommend that we consider The Cowboy Chronicle and/or True West for our advertising.

Texas Jack Association Member Thadd Turner Wins Award

Texas Jack Association member Thadd Turner has WON the 2006 SPUR AWARD for Best Drama Feature Script from the Western Writers of America for his family Western film Miracle at Sage Creek released nationwide on DVD May 30th through Universal/Screen Media Films.

The movie is a wonderful family drama set in 1880's Wyoming about two very different families who overcome their tragic past to help save a small dying boy when a special Christmas miracle occurs. It has beautiful cinematography and stars veteran actors David Carradine, Wes Studi, Michael Parks, Irene Bedard, and Buck Taylor.

Thadd produced the film through his production company Talmarc Productions and plays a small role as the mean "Sergeant Banks" in the movie, along with his 8-year-old son Wyatt, who plays "Kit Kellar", the sick little boy in the movie.

Talmarc Productions has several other films in active development, including the fast-paced Western The Hard Ride with a cameo scene featuring Texas Jack, Buffalo Bill, and Wild Bill Hickok together, scheduled to shoot in Santa Fe, New Mexico in August and September. Other film projects include A Meadowlark Calling, Buttermilk Sky, and Wild Michigan.

For more information, visit Talmarc Production's website at www.talmarcproductions.com or the Internet Data Movie Base at <http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0444669/>.

Thadd's non-fiction book "Wild Bill Hickok: Deadwood City- End of Trail" was released in 2001.
